Forbes Packaging

Forbes Packaging was founded back in 1959, and is New Zealand's largest privately owned Packaging manufacturer. We take pride in a fully customised/customer centric packaging development process. From structural dieline design and sampling, through to world class offset printing and embellishment offerings. Forbes proudly sources board from sustainably managed forestry, which carries the PEFC certification. We are also ISO9001, ISO14001 and ISO45001 certified. We understand that packaging is the face of any brand, and Forbes takes pride in building long standing partnerships to continuously add supply chain value through system efficiencies and quality.
