Pharmapac Ltd

Trading since 1979, Pharmapac is still owned and operated by the Hopwood family, ensuring that the original family values of exceptional quality and service continue to permeate everything we do.

Over the past four decades our processes and facilities have remained at the leading edge as we have steadily grown and expanded our plant's capabilities and our specialist research, design, quality management and sustainability teams.

We now have three sites in Auckland which house our offices, production facility and distribution centres. The Pharmapac family has grown to over 60 staff members – many of whom have been with us for over 20 years!

Our point of difference is our commitment to improving the way packaging is designed and manufactured, and our ongoing involvement in sustainability forums. Everything we make is 100% fully recyclable and we're working hard to create a circular economy.
